How can we support young people to cease vaping in our community?

There is some good information out there.

QUIT Victoria – talking to young people about smoking and vaping.

And our young people are trying to come up with solutions.

Stawell's own Stawell West State Primary School came up with "Respect your brain" and "You are not alone, talk to someone you know" as part of their DASH program

Ballarat Community Health and Mt Clear College put together some videos about vaping by young people for young people

These good messages are drowned out by corporations driven by profit and not ethics.

7News Spotlight on vaping exposes big companies and their role in shamelessly addicting our young people. New research exposes the manipulative tricks the e-cigarette industry uses.

By educating ourselves, together as a community we will be able to support our young people to say no to the lies told by these big corporations.

VICTORIAN POLICE

“Halls Gap Police were lucky enough to receive two new bicycles through a sponsorship deal with a local business.

Bike patrols will form an integral part of our summer operations, ensuring local youth and community engagement within the five caravan parks in the town, our main street and keeping an eye on the ever-growing line of people wanting an ice-cream!

This is the first of many projects being undertaken at Halls Gap focussed on improving and uplifting service delivery.”

Sullivan's Seat—A piece from David Witham

In case you are not aware of it, Sullivan's Seat is a memorial to Daniel Sullivan, the early Grampians Botanist. It is situated on the west side of School Road in the bank below one of the caravan park cabins and is accessed by steps from the recently enlarged parking area on School Road. A few years ago the Historical Society asked the Caravan Park Management Committee if they could remove the memorial plaque, have it refurbished and then installed in the Botanic Garden, where it would be seen more readily. This was done, but the condition that the original stone seat would be reconstituted was not fulfilled for some time, partly because of covid. Around four months ago this was put to right and the stonework is again complete, with the aluminium information plaque that used to stand beside the seat now in the centre where the original one was removed. It's worth a look, if only to find out where those steps lead to!!

Botanical Garden News

1. The Northern Grampians shire has given us a grant for a mural to be painted on the rear wall of our shelter shed, thus facing the Grampians Peaks Trail. That is such good news. The artists are both locals, Barb Venn and Stacey Rees. You probably won't see them often in action as they are both busy, but they do prefer to work on site. They won't be painting on the corrugated iron but on wood or metal sheets which are screwed on to the wall. They have a full year to do it.
2. We are going to introduce a Monday working bee once a month. We have some folk who work on Fridays which is our usual time, but who are keen to help us. So put 10 a.m. on the first Monday of the month on your calendar, starting March 4.
3. If you can't make either of these times, but would like to help, you can adopt a bed and work there. Several of us are doing that.
